By His Excellency's Command,
GEORGE JOHNSON, pro Secretary.

GOD Save the KING.

Extracts from the Information ſent to his Excellency the Governor concerning the late murders committed by the Creek Indians.

"By information on oath, made before Patrick Calhoun, Eſq; at Long-Canes, on the 24th of laſt month, by Edward M'Gary, a ſettler there, and tranſmitted to the Governor, it appears, That on ſaid day the 24th paſt, he, ſaid Edward M'Gary, being at John Vann's old plantation, on Savannah river, ſaw ſome Indians about noon catching horſes; at firſt he took the Indians to be Cherokees, but obſerving one whom he well knew to be a Creek (being one of the party of thoſe Indians that drove the ſettlers from Broad River, in Georgia, laſt ſummer) making towards his gun, which was ſet up againſt the houſe, he got behind an out-houſe before the Indian could fire at him, and got off to a ſettlement about two miles diſtant, whence he and four other men returned immediately, and riding up to the door of the houſe where he firſt diſcovered the Indians, they ſaw one John Dyer's wife lying on the floor killed, and a few ſteps from the houſe they found a little girl lying killed; but being only five white men, they did not ſtay to examine if they were ſcalped, and ſeveral people being miſſing, they thought it beſt to alarm the ſettlements.

"On the 26th of December, Arthur Cody, a trader, gave information on oath to ſaid Mr. Calhoun, that on the 24th of ſaid month, he being at a plantation where he formerly lived, about four miles from the mouth of Broad River in Georgia, was informed by Moytoy of Hywaſſee, who was there with 14 other Cherokees in a hunting camp, that ſome Creek Indians were that day gone over Savannah River to kill white people, and that one of his (Moytoy's) young men, who had been over the ſaid river hunting, had heard ſome guns fired, and the death whoop raiſed. Before the converſation ended, the Creek Indians appeared before the Cherokee camp, gave the death whoop, and held up a pole whereon were ſcalps of the white people; upon which Moytoy deſired ſaid Cody to make his eſcape, which he did with great difficulty, being cloſe purſued for above an hour by the Creeks, who were ſo near him when he croſſed Broad River, as to be entering on one ſide as he got to the other. He continued in the woods all night, and next day, December 25th, about ten o'clock, he diſcovered the tracks of the enemy ſtill in purſuit of him, but luckily came up with another Cherokee camp, where was the Rabbet Warrior of Toogueloo, with five other Cherokees, who preſſed him not to halt, but make the beſt of his way, as the enemies were gone down the river, and two of the Cherokees went with him to conduct him over to the ſettlement. About half a mile from the camp they diſcovered a party of the Creeks, on which the Cherokees deſired Cody to keep out of ſight, and they would endeavour to learn what had been done. When they returned they told him, they had ſquatted till the enemy paſſed; they conſiſted of eight Creeks, and had taken five white ſcalps. Cody got to Mr. Calhoun's the 26th, miſerably diſfigured and ſcratched with the briars, &c. The Rabbet abovementioned informed Cody, that the Creeks ſaid a great body of thoſe Indians was lying at the great Buffalo Lick, about 35 miles up Broad River, intending to croſs Savannah River at the Long Canes, and proceed as far as Saluda; and another party to go down the river towards Auguſta. One of the Rabbet's party had been killed about five days before, by the Creeks as he thought. Moytoy deſired the Governor might be informed that he had not forgot his promiſe at the congreſs to aſſiſt the white people, if it became needful; and if his aſſiſtance was wanted, deſired his Excellency might ſend him a painted knife, that he might know it was war.

"A letter from Mr. Calhoun to his Excellency, dated fort at Long Canes, December 26, ſays, That beſides the woman and girl mentioned in Edward M'Gary's affidavit, a young man had been found killed about a mile from the other. Such a detachment of the militia as could be ſpared from guarding the women and children, was ſent out to bury the dead, and make diſcoveries; part of them returned the 26th; they found the bodies of 14 white perſons killed at the time and place mentioned by M'Gary, only one ſcalped, but the others cut and mangled in a moſt inhuman manner; ſeveral perſons were ſtill miſſing, but the party being ſmall, they did not chuſe to ſtay out long, and had brought in many of the ſettlers to the fort. The ſituation of the poor inhabitants is repreſented as very deplorable, flying for fear of the ſavages with only the cloaths on their backs, helpleſs women and children expoſed to all the inclemencies of a rigorous ſeaſon, abandoning their habitations, and in want of every conveniency, and even the neceſſaries of life. An alarm had been ſpread through the country, and application made for a detachment of militia from the regiment commanded by Col. Chevillete at Orangeburgh, which, though upwards of an hundred miles from Long Canes, was their neareſt relief. Several ſettlers were come from the Northward and other parts ſince the congreſs at Auguſta, who, with many ſingle men, ſeemed willing to make a ſtand, if they met with ſpeedy and proper encouragement."

By other intelligence we learn, that Moytoy the Cherokee, furniſhed Arthur Cody with a horſe, which enabled him to get to the fort at Long Canes. Moytoy ſaid, that the whole number of white perſons ſcalped by thoſe Indians, appeared to be twelve, and thoſe killed, but not ſcalped, thirteen, according to the accounts he had received.

The inhabitants of Long Canes got into two ſtockaded forts, which they built for their own defence; in one were thirty-ſeven men, and one hundred and three women and children, and in the other thirty-four men, and thirty-five women and children. There are likewiſe forts at Ninety-Six, and at Hard-Labour, about 24 miles from Long Canes, whither we hear many are fled for ſhelter, and all the other back ſettlers, Mr. Calhoun ſays, are moving down to Ediſto. The detachment mentioned above, ſent out to bury the dead, conſiſted only of ten men; they went firſt to Dyer's plantation; next to---Lawſon's, and then to ---Pawley's, where they found all the families murdered except three men, one boy, and one girl, who providentially happened to be gone out.

This day the GENERAL ASSEMBLY of this province met here, in obedience to the Governor's proclamation, when his Excellency delivered the following SPEECH, to both houſes.

Honourable Gentlemen,
Mr. Speaker, and Gentlemen of the Commons Houſe of Aſſembly,

WITHOUT obſerving to day upon the buſineſs of various ſorts, which well deſerves your ſerious attention, the melancholy incident which I ſhall immediately make you acquainted with, will ſufficiently juſtify my calling you ſo ſuddenly together. On the 24th of laſt month, a party of Creek Indians murdered fourteen perſons in the Long-Canes ſettlement; an outrage of this ſort, ſo ſoon after the King's forgiveneſs of all former offences was ſolemnly declared to them, and every means uſed to remove their jealouſies, and to conciliate their good will, is too plain a proof, I am afraid, that they are not to be reclaimed by good offices, that they diſdain your proffered friendſhip, and are really dangerous and inveterate enemies; as ſuch they muſt be treated, and as ſuch guarded againſt. The conſternation and real diſtreſs which the poor unhappy back ſettlers are thrown into, reduced to abandon their all, or loſe their lives, will, I am perſuaded, excite your compaſſion, and procure them relief. It would be an inſult to your humanity to doubt it, and additional miſery, if poſſible, to them to be diſappointed. I will lay copies of the information brought me before you, and then rely on your taking ſuch meaſures as a love of your country, and a tenderneſs for your fellow creatures, muſt dictate. Such aſſiſtance as I could furniſh independent of you is already ordered. When you, Gentlemen of the Commons Houſe of Aſſembly, are deliberating upon this unhappy affair, it will be by no means foreign from the ſubject to conſider how the poſts on the frontiers are circumſtanced. Auguſta, which is garriſoned by troops from this province, is in ruins: Fort Moore is repaired indeed, but has not a gun mounted, or a gun carriage belonging to it, nor am I able to convey to either a barrel of powder, unleſs I apply the poor remains of contingent money to this ſervice. There is not a month's proviſion in the one nor the other, nor is Fort Prince George much better ſupplied, and what is ſtill worſe, the crown no longer allows proviſions to the troops.

Thus, Gentlemen, I have related plainly how matters are, and have carefully avoided heightening the diſtreſs of the frontiers by laboured deſcriptions.

Before I conclude, I muſt acquaint you, that in conſequence of repreſentations made to the King, his Majeſty has thought proper to order me to appoint commiſſioners to run a temporary line of juriſdiction, in concert with North-Carolina commiſſioners. Governor Dobbs and I have agreed, that they ſhall begin the Firſt of March, and I now apply to you, Gentlemen of the Commons Houſe of Aſſembly, to enable me to carry the King's commands into execution.

January 4th, 1764. THOMAS BOONE.

A great number of ſettlers from the northward, have come by land into the weſtern parts of this province during ſeveral months paſt. On the 26th ult. a number of thoſe ſettlers, with four waggons, arrived at Hard-Labour abovementioned, where they reſolved to remain till they heard what was to be done concerning the murders committed by the Creek Indians.

A VERY dangerous Rock has been lately diſcovered near the Colleradoes, in the Gulph of Florida, which is thought to have been the Occaſion of many Shipwrecks; it is near a Quarter of a Mile round, level with the Surface, and, in a rough Sea, not to be diſtinguiſhable but by the Breakers.

There are great Preparations making at Leghorn for the Reception of an Admiral of great Dignity; who will ſhortly come here to treat of a Matter, no leſs than the future Fate of Corſica. Paoli has lately had great Succeſs; and it is reported, that when the above-mentioned great Perſonage arrives here, Paoli will alſo come over here incog. to pay his Reſpects to him, and to confer with him on the Means of ſettling, on a ſure and ſolid Foundation, the future Peace of thoſe brave, but unhappy, Illanders.

"We have had ſome expeditions up the country ſince I wrote to you laſt, as ſome of the Spaniards, Malays and Panpamgoes (which are the Indians of the country) have been in arms againſt us. The firſt place we went againſt was Paſſey, which we took with much eaſe, and great ſlaughter of the enemy. Since that, another detachment, conſiſting of 500 men, Seapoys included, went out under the command of Captain Sleigh, with whom I went to a place called Ballacon, where the enemy had made a fortification and baſtions round the walls of the churchyard. We arrived in the village (after having ſkirmiſhed with the enemy on the march) on the 22d of January, 1763, the ſame day of the month that the famous battle of Vandewaſh was fought on. About one o'clock, Capt. Sleigh detached me, with the grenadiers, and two platoons under my command, to take poſt on the ſide of the church. The enemy fired a gun at us loaded with grape ſhot, which fell among us, and wounded our guide in a bad manner. We halted at the hedge, and I ſent to Captain Sleigh, to ſend me down a cannon immediately; and as I then perceived the enemy was flying from the church, I told the officers that were with me, that I thought it would be moſt expedient to make a puſh over a field which lay betwixt us and the church; which we did accordingly, and took poſt at the corner of the church. Capt. Sleigh ſent ſome platoons to the other corner of it, where they took poſt alſo, and the cannon and howitzer played very briſkly on the church; ſoon after the detachment ſtormed the walls of the church-yard, and entered and took the church. The loſs on our ſide was inconſiderable, only one grenadier and one Seapoy were killed, and about twelve Europeans and as many Seapoys wounded. The enemy's loſs muſt have been great, as we buried betwixt two and 300 of them the next day. A muſket ball went through my coat and ſhirt ſleeve, but did me no other harm than tearing them both. We took near thirty pieces of cannon, ſwivels included; about 50 ſtands of ſmall arms, a ſtand of Spaniſh colours, and Indian arrows in great abundance."

Extract of another letter from Manilla, March 1.

"M. Anda, formerly one of the Council of Manilla, being in the country when it was taken by the Engliſh, denied that the Governor had any authority to deliver up the Philippine Iſlands along with the town of Manilla; he therefore refuſed to obey the ſummons of the Governor to come and ſurrender himſelf priſoner, and declared himſelf for his Catholick Majeſty, and the ſupport of the Roman Religion. To him reſorted all the Spaniſh officers and ſoldiers who were in the country, and had deſerted Manilla before it was ſtormed, as alſo a multitude of natives, who glory in fighting under the banners of religion.

"They made the iſland of Paſſig, ſituated in the middle of the river, about ſeven miles from Manilla, and the town and province of Ballowcawn, their principal places of reſidence, both which places they fortified as ſtrongly as they could; and they made ſo good uſe of their ſituation and numbers, as to reduce us to a great want of proviſions, which forced us to make two expeditions againſt them; the firſt againſt Paſſig, which we took by ſtorm, and put to death above 600 men; the other was againſt Bullowcawn, which we alſo carried by ſtorm, and killed about 400 men. M. Anda made his eſcape, and ſtill continues in arms, being joined by four or five hundred prieſts, and about fifty men, who deſerted from two French companies in our ſervice. The ſpirit of deſertion ſeems to prevail ſo ſtrongly among them, that we are obliged to embark them on board the ſquadron to Madraſs, which has reduced our garriſon to an handful of men, conſidering we have about 800 prieſts, and a thouſand Spaniards, living within our walls.

"As to the importance of the Philippine iſlands, I ſhall only ſay that it is too well known; but how they will be diſpoſed of at the concluſion of a peace, our negotiators beſt know."

DOMINICA, November 2.

To all Merchants or Maſters of Veſſels navigating to or from any of the Britiſh Colonies to the Caribbee Iſlands.

THE critical Situation of Dominica between the two French Colonies of Guadaloupe and Martinico, expoſing that Iſland to all the Rigours of the French King's Letters Patent of October 1727, By "which all foreign Ships and Veſſels were made liable to be ſeized and confiſcated for navigating within a League of their Coaſt," Whereby the Trade of his Majeſty's Subjects in general, might be greatly obſtructed, and that Colony particularly diſtreſſed; Brigadier General Dalrymple thought it indiſpenſibly his Duty to repreſent to the French Governors of the ſaid Colonies the Inconvenience of putting the ſaid Letters Patent rigorouſly in Force; and to propoſe a Suſpenſion of that Part of them which expoſed all Britiſh Veſſels to be ſeized and confiſcated, by approaching within the preſcribed Diſtance (which muſt be often neceſſary to enable them to make out their Voyages to the ſeveral Iſlands, now intermixed with the French Colonies) till freſh Orders and Inſtructions relative to that Head might be received from our reſpective Courts; to which the General and Intendant of Martinico have aſſented by their publick Letter of the 1ſt of September, and thoſe of Guadaloupe by Monſieur de Bourlemaque's Letter of the 17th of October.

Provided always, That none of our Veſſels ſhould Anchor, or attempt to Anchor in any of their Out-bays; in which caſe the ſaid Veſſels would be ſtill liable to all the Rigours of the Letters Patent. But in caſe of Diſaſters at Sea, they might put into the Ports of St. Pierre, Fort Royal, and Trinity, of Martinico, and thoſe of Baſſeterre and Point Peter of Guadaloupe.

Two Letters inſerted by Requeſt.

City Priſon, Bayonne, Auguſt 17, 1763.

ON the 20th of May 1762, I ſailed a Paſſenger on board the Sloop Little Molly, Richard Albouy, Maſter, loaded with King's Proviſions, and bound to Martinico, and on the 3d of June following was taken by a Letter of Marque L'Oiſeau, on her Paſſage from Cape-Francois to Bourdeaux, but the Captain of the Sloop ranſomed the Veſſel and Cargo from the French, for the Sum of 1600 Spaniſh Dollars; for the Payment of that Sum I became Ranſomer, and on the 2d of October the ſame Year, was brought to this Place. I have often wrote to the Maſter of the Sloop, and his Owner Joſeph Mains, Merchant in Barbados, but never received an Anſwer

City Priſon, Bayonne, Auguſt 17, 1763.

ON the 29th of July 1761, I ſailed from Elizabeth Town, in the Sloop Two Friends, John Dorrington, Maſter, bound to the Iſland of St. Thomas, and was taken the 17th of Auguſt following, by the Ship Colobie, James Ameith, Maſter, from Martinico to Bourdeaux, and was brought to this Place the 28th of September following as Ranſomer for the Sloop. I have wrote often to the Maſter, and to the Owners Meſſieurs Woodruff and Galf, of ſaid Town, and have never received any Anſwer.

PROVIDENCE, January 14.

The many Difficulties and Hardſhips which the Trade of the Northern Colonies is at preſent burthened with, by the ſeveral ſevere Reſtrictions, Prohibitions, &c. it is thought will excite the Attention of the Legiſlature of the different Governments reſpectively, and that proper Repreſentations will ſoon be tranſmitted Home to the Lords of Trade and Plantations, for the Removal or Mitigation of the Grievances impoſed on ſo loyal a Part of His Majeſty's Dominions.

We hear that the Hon. STEPHEN HOPKINS, Eſq; our Governor, has iſſued out Warrants for calling the General Aſſembly, to meet at South-Kingſtown on Tueſday the 24th Inſtant, in Conſequence of a Petition from a conſiderable Number of Merchants of this Colony, who have a Remonſtrance, with ſundry important Matters, to lay before the Houſe, reſpecting the Reſtrictions on the Plantation Trade.

NEW-YORK, January 23.

Head Quarters, New-York, January 5, 1764.

"His Majeſty has been graciouſly pleaſed to ſignify to the Commander in Chief, his Royal Approbation of the Conduct and Bravery of Colonel BOUQUET, and his Officers, and the Troops under his Command, in the two Attacks on the 5th and 6th of Auguſt, in which, notwithſtanding the many Circumſtances of Difficulty and Diſtreſs they laboured under, they repelled and defeated the repeated Attacks of the Indians, and conducted their Convoy ſafe to Fort Pitt."

Two Companies of New-York Provincials marched for Albany on the 24th of laſt Month, and a Third Company on the 8th of this Month; all raiſed in this City, and Places adjacent. They are picked Men, fit for the moſt alert Service, and are cloathed in a ſuitable Manner. We are likewiſe informed, that two other Companies, raiſing in Albany and Dutcheſs County, were lately ſo near being filled, that there is no Doubt they are by this Time compleated, and will make a fine Battalion.

Three-and-Twenty Sail of Trading Veſſels have quitted this Port ſince our laſt, 9 on one Day, and 14 on another; the former, without Pilots; the latter, conducted down by the good Will of ſuch Gentlemen Commanders who were acquainted with the Channel, and who freely offered their Service for the Benefit of Trade, and the Good of the Inſurers; a Veſſel being prepared to bring them up from the Hook, from which the whole Fleet ſailed on Saturday laſt with a fine leading Gale. [It ſeems the Stomachs of our Pilots had taken a Diſguſt to an Act of the Legiſlature made the laſt Seſſions for the better Encouragement of Trade, by leſſening ſo much a Foot for Pilotage on Foreigners, notwithſtanding a Conſideration was allowed them for the Reduction, and refuſed to pilot any Veſſel down or up.----For their Obſtinacy, Five of them, we hear, are totally broke by Order in Council; and the others no Doubt will be continued during good Behaviour.

The Rev. Mr. GEORGE WHITEFIELD, left this City on Tueſday laſt, and went over to Long-Iſland, intending for Boſton. He has ſpent 7 Weeks with us, preaching twice a Week, to more general Acceptance than ever; and been treated with great Reſpect by many of the Gentlemen and Merchants of this Place. During his Stay, he preached two Charity Sermons; the one on Occaſion of the annual Collection for the Poor of the Preſbyterian Church, in which double the Sum was collected that ever was upon the like Occaſion; the other was for the Benefit of Mr. Wheelock's Indian School at Lebanon, in New-England, for which he collected (notwithſtanding the preſent Prejudices of many People againſt the Indians) the Sum of 120l. In his laſt Sermon he took a very affectionate Leave of the People of this City, who were extremely affected by it, and expreſſed great Concern at his Departure. May God reſtore this great and good Man (in whom the Gentleman, the Chriſtian, and accompliſhed Orator ſhine forth with ſuch peculiar Luſtre) to a perfect State of Health, and continue him long a Bleſſing to the World and the Church of Chriſt!

Tueſday laſt, Meſſrs. Joſeph and Richardſon Cornell, of this City, Shopkeepers, abſconded, having firſt taken up Goods, from different Merchants of this Place, to the Amount of £7000, and converted the greateſt part of them into ready Caſh: They went to Cow Neck, on Long-Iſland, and there ſhut themſelves up in a Room, in the Houſe of Mr. Henry Sands, of that Place, and as ſome of the Creditors were endeavouring to get in upon them, laſt Friday Morning, they fired two Shot, the laſt of which killed Mr. Timothy M'Carthy of this Place, on the Spot; and the ſame Day they eſcaped; and 'twas ſuppoſed were conveyed on board a Schooner in the Sound. The Coroner's Inqueſt being ſummoned, brought in their Verdict, WILLFUL MURDER. Mr M'Carthy's Body was brought to Town Saturday Night, and decently interred Yeſterday Evening.

Jan. 26. Yeſterday came on, in the General Court in this City, the Trial of the Soldiers taken up on account of the late Riot, breaking the Goal, and reſcuing Major Rogers; when we hear 5 of them were found Guilty, and that they have declared the Major was privy to the Deſign.

Jan. 30 The State of the Commerce of this Continent, is of univerſal Concern to its Inhabitants; at preſent it is in a languiſhing Condition; our Debt in Europe increaſes; our Power to pay it off decreaſes. To find out the Cauſes, and point out a Remedy for this growing Evil, is an Object of the moſt ſerious Conſideration to every Friend to Great-Britain and North-America; for which End, the Merchants of this City had public Notice to aſſemble on Friday laſt, at Mr. Burns's Long Room, where a very conſiderable Body of them met, and appointed a Committee to prepare a Memorial to the Legiſlature of this Province, repreſenting the Decline of Trade, and the Diſtreſſes of the Merchants and Traders of this City, praying its Interpoſition with the Parliament of Great-Britain: And as every Gentleman who is a Friend to the Trade of our Mother Country, or has Property in this Province, muſt conceive himſelf intereſted in the Succeſs of this Undertaking, it is hoped that they will contribute thereto, by furniſhing ſuch Materials as they may think proper to introduce on this Occaſion, by a Direction to the Province Arms, where they will be gratefully received by the Committee, who will this Evening fix ſtated Times to meet; of which the Public will have Notice.

Laſt Friday as Robert Ogden, Eſq; of Elizabeth-Town, with his Wife, Son, and Preſident Finley's Wife, &c. were paſſing over on the Ice at New-Brunſwick, it gave Way with them; and it was with great Difficulty their Lives were ſaved,

The College at Princetown, took Fire laſt Week; but as yet we have not been able to obtain any other Particulars, than that it received little Damage thereby.

About 10 o'Clock Saturday Night laſt, Captain Mooney, of this Place, was ſtopped by three Sailors, near Chapel-ſtreet, and ordered to Stand and Deliver, and at the ſame Time they preſented a Piſtol to his Breaſt; Captain Mooney, not chuſing to comply with their Requeſt, ruſhed in upon the Fellow who had the Piſtol in his Hand, which he immediately fired, and Captain Mooney narrowly eſcaped being ſhot, as the Ball went through his Cloak. The Villains immediately made their Eſcape.

This Day three Tranſports with a Number of Officers, and Men belonging to Montgomery's Regiment, ſails for England.

Elizabeth-Town (New-Jerſey) January 23, 1764.

Laſt Friday departed this Life Miſs MARY ELDRINGTON, an old Virgin, in the 109th Year of her Age; ſhe was of an ancient Family, born at Eldrington-Hall, in Northumberland, Old England, and on the next Day ſhe was decently interred in St. John's Church-yard, at Elizabeth-Town. It is remarkable that notwithſtanding her great Age, ſhe was deſirous of getting a Huſband before ſhe died; and not two Years ſince, nothing would offend her ſo highly as to tell her that ſhe was too old to be married.

PHILADELPHIA, February 2.

We hear from Eaſt-Jerſey, that laſt Friday Evening, ROBERT HUNTER MORRIS, Eſq; Chief Juſtice of that Province, and formerly Governor of Pennſylvania, died ſuddenly there. His Death is juſtly looked upon as a public Loſs in that Government, where he has long maintained the Character of an able and upright Judge.

Extract of a Letter from Burlington, January 25.

"Lieutenant Shaw, who commanded our Detachment at Niagara, after the Death of Captain Johnſton, is come down from thence, and ſays, that the very Warriors, who were at the Attack of our People at the North End of Lake Erie, were at Sir William Johnſon's, making their Submiſſion, as he paſſed by."

The Brig St. James, Captain Fiſher, from Jamaica for this Place, in the Snow Storm on Tueſday, the 24th ult. was drove aſhore within our Capes, where, it was feared, ſhe would be loſt. One of the Sailors, we hear, periſhed, and that three others were almoſt dead.

AMSTERDAM, October 17.

THE quantity of silver brought into our bank, since the beginning of our late misfortunes, is so great as to have obliged the directors to open two new apartments for its reception; nor have we any reason to doubt of the truth of this report, especially when we recollect the vast quantity of this precious metal that has been during that period imported into Holland from Britain only. The Agio, in the mean time, and course of exchange, are so much altered as to give us the agreeable hopes of soon seeing them as favourable to us as usual; and the bills which could not have been discounted for less than six per cent. two or three weeks ago, are now done currently at two and a half. The mournful tale of new failures is no longer told of the merchants of Amsterdam; and many circumstances concur in indicating that the shock, and its most dreadful effects, are over, and that credit and trade, divested only of false glare, will soon shine with genuine, and therefore permanent glory. Bills under acceptance, and accounts current, may, it is true, occasion still some trouble; but it is not likely to be very considerable. Those who have weathered the storm, are transported when they review the dangers they have escaped; and many of the unfortunate are hoping to rise from their distress, through the divine blessing on their evident integrity, on their abilities for business, and the prudence that experience has taught them. In one word, our mercantile world smiles once more, and the whole country is happy.

This was a sudden and improbable change indeed; yet it is easier to account for it, than many may be apt to imagine. It seldom happens that one merchant is perfectly acquainted with the affairs of another; nor is it possible for one, engaged in a very extensive trade, to see through all its connections and windings. Of all human situations, the commercial is the most complex, the most intricate, the most exposed to revolutions, and the most uncapable of man's decisive conclusions; therefore it is that we daily see and have reason to expect the most unlikely events in trade, both unfavourable and favourable; and that the wisest Merchant, like the wisest Philosopher, depends more on experiment, than on theory. Our late calamities were, in a great degree, the effects of temporary causes, which they could not, we now see, long survive; they resembled a fit, and not a consumption; and we, who thought that commerce was no more, behold it raised by a purifying disease to a probability of increased health and vigour. We had reared a huge fabric of trade and credit, chiefly on a neutrality, and on the circulation of those numerous millions that Britain lavished away in Germany in the late war; these pillars a reasonable peace snatched suddenly away; a part of the building tumbled down about our ears; many were more frightened than hurt; and now the panick is over, and many laugh, and more are surprised at their own fears. There was no general deficiency of capital in the city of the world, that possesses, according to its bulk at least, the greatest unemployed riches. Current money, and time to find it, were the sole wants of the majority; the stronger have found both; the weaker have failed, but the compositions settled or offered for them are uncommonly good; low discounts and high credit follow such a trial as naturally as health does a restorative fever; and thus have we emerged from the North Sea, as a mad world did out of the South Sea, somewhat more than twenty years ago. Britons! beware; your nearest neighbour's house has been in flames; take care of your own.

The history of the bankruptcies that have happened in this city, in Hamburgh, Stockholm, Berlin, Altona, Leipsic, and London, verify the account we gave of them; Stockholm adds one more to the innumerable evidences of French perfidy. Each of these suffering cities will retrieve its affairs in a time, regulated probably by the quantity of its losses, and remaining capital in trade; and those who have stood their ground in each of them, will have a double chance of retrieving their partial losses (if they have been losers) and enriching themselves by the double credit that they have acquired, and by the gleanings that others have been obliged to drop. What many considered as the inevitable ruin of this city, I considered only as the eminent danger. The threatened revolution in the principal and course of commerce has already taken place, with all wise men, in an earnest endeavour to lessen paper credit as much as may be; and is likely to take place still further in a direct course of exchange between London and Petersburgh; which we would regret not a little, having been long bankers for both, in their mutual concerns. This naturally suggests what has been often, what cannot be too often observed by Britain and her friends; that, by following the loud calls of good policy, Londoners will be led, in a few years, to find, and rear, in their American colonies, almost all those articles, and particularly those naval stores, that they import from the Baltick at whatever prices the sellers please to put upon them; which would at once save Britain immense treasures yearly, enable them to furnish our markets with what they must now purchase themselves, and render them the most independent, as they are already the most formidable maritime power on earth. Britain did not conquer America in Germany; but thence it should be her care to people and cultivate it: A few millions bestowed properly on this noble plan, would be more subservient to her real interests, than all that she has spent on connections with the European continent, has ever been, or than the possession of all the mines of Peru and Mexico could be; and if those, who arrogate to themselves the name of patriots, on your side of the water, would, instead of retarding the measures of government, and disturbing the nation, forward this and all the other arts and blessings of peace, they would be really what they pretend, and the judicious and impartial would acknowledge them as such.

LONDON.

Oct. 1. The present state of parties among the great is thus spoken of by a spirited political writer, who stiles himself a Country Whig: "Think not, says he, that the present administration is founded in Tory, think not that the opposition to it is founded in Whig principles; no, rather look upon them as men abstracted from all such principles, contending for power. On the one side there is the King; the dukes of Bedford, Marlborough and Rutland; the Marquis of Granby; the Earls of Halifax, Northumberland, and Sandwich; Lord Charles Spencer, and the Hon. George Grenville, &c. On the other side, the Dukes of Cumberland, Grafton, Devonshire, and Newcastle; the Marquis of Rockingham; Earl Hardwicke; Mr. Pitt, Mr. Legge, &c. &c. &c. &c."

BOSTON, January 19.

The Small-Pox is now in 14 Houses in Town, all which are guarded, and Flags are put out, to prevent the spreading of the Infection; The Governor has also issued a Proclamation forbidding Inoculation in the Town, till the Select Men shall give publick Notice, that all Means to prevent the spreading of the Distemper are like to be ineffectual, or shall give Permission under their Hands and Seals.

Extract of a Letter from Barbados.

"There never was greater plenty of silver here than at present; all our payments for the produce of the Northern colonies are made in specie; and our currency, as you will imagine, has been considerably reduced; notwithstanding which, scarce a vessel departs either for England or the continent, without having great quantities of dollars shipped on board, which plainly demonstrates how vastly beneficial, with regard to trade, our late connections with the Havannah have been, and at the same time our loss, or rather infatuation to give it up."---It was, while in our hands, like Solomon's land of Ophir, to these islands.

Extract of a Letter from London, dated Nov. 9, 1763.

"The Ministry is the same as when I wrote you by the last Packet. Our Commons are all returning from Spaw, France, &c. against the ensuing Session of Parliament, which is fixed to be the 15th Instant, it is expected to be a very warm one. Sir Charles Yorke has resigned his Place as Attorney General. Lord Northumberland has greatly displeased his Irish Subjects, in attempting further Pensions on the Irish List: Lord Kildare is gone over to suppress the Riots. It is said that Dr. Tucker, Dean of Bristol, will be created a Bishop, by the Title of Bishop of Albany, with a Salary of £1500 per Annum, to be paid out of his Majesty's Quit Rents in America; that his Lordship's Residence will be at Albany, where a Palace is to be built at the Expence of the Crown: This Gentleman is remarkable for his great Attention to American Affairs."

NEW-YORK, January 30.

We have it from the very best Authority, That Sir WILLIAM JOHNSON was lately visited by above 300 Friendly Indians of the Five Nations; as also by some Deputies from the Senecas, who are accompanied by one Hans Eise, a German, formerly taken near Fort Cumberland, and delivered up, with several other Prisoners, to Sir WILLIAM about two Years ago: But, being a profligate Person, immediately made his escape to the Senecas, whom he has since accompanied, by his own Confession, to war against the English, and committed several Acts of Cruelty, by the Report of others-----On which Information Sir WILLIAM caused him to be apprehended, and committed to Albany Goal.--- And has also obtained from a Village of Friendly Senecas, one Gabriel Ellison, an Englishman, who says he has relations in Bucks County, in the Province of Pennsylvania, and was taken in November 1762; and carried to Kanawagan, a Castle of Enemy Senecas, from whence he made his Escape to Kanadasego, a Castle of Friendly Indians of that Nation (next to Cayuga,) which Indians having remained neuter during the late Hostilities, have now delivered him up at Sir WILLIAM JOHNSON'S Request.

February 2. On Saturday Night Mr. Edward Nicholls, of this Town, was robbed of a small Sum of Money, in the Street on Golden Hill, by a Man who presented a Pistol to his Breast, threatening his Life, if he made the least Noise or Delay.---This was probably one of the same Persons who attempted Captain Mooney.---And on Tuesday Morning last a Fellow was detected in stealing a Saw from a Cooper on the North River. He offered the Cooper a Ten Pound Bill to let him escape, and on his Refusal attempted to break from him, but was secured, and carried before a Magistrate, where he was searched, and a loaded Pistol, a Powder Horn with Powder, a Paper of Bullets, and a long sharp pointed Knife, were found in his Pockets. He proved to be the same Man who was tried in October last, and found Guilty in the Supreme Court, for Robbing Sullivan of a Watch, &c. and discharged on Supposition of Insanity. It was declared by Sullivan that some of the Goods taken from the Villain in the Scuffle, by Capt. Mooney, appeared to be the same he had seen worn by the Man who had robbed him of his Watch. Capt. Mooney and Mr. Nichols declared that the Prisoner appeared to be the same that robbed the one, and attempted to rob the other. He was committed to Goal.

We hear from Prince Town, in New-Jersey, that last Week a Room in the College there, was by some Accident set on Fire, and caused an Alarm, but was extinguished without doing any Damage except in that Room. We hear each of the Rooms in this College are separated by a Brick Wall, which is not cover'd by Wainscot or any Wood Work, so that a Fire in any of the Rooms cannot spread to the rest except by burning through the Floor to the Room beneath.

PHILADELPHIA, February 9.

On Saturday last the City was alarmed with the News of great Numbers of armed Men, from the Frontiers, being on the several Roads, and moving towards Philadelphia. As their Designs were unknown, and there were various Reports concerning them, it was thought prudent to put the City in some Posture of Defence against any Outrages that might possibly be intended. The Inhabitants being accordingly called upon by the Governor, great Numbers of them entered into an Association, and took Arms for the Support of Government, and Maintenance of good Order.

Six Companies of Foot, one of Artillery, and 2 Troops of Horse, were formed, and paraded; to which, it is said, some Thousands, who did not appear, were prepared to join themselves, in case any Attempt should be made against the Town. The Barracks also, where the Indians are lodged, under Protection of the regular Troops, were put into a good Posture of Defence; several Works being thrown up about them, and eight Pieces of Cannon planted there.

The Insurgents, it seems, intended to rendezvous at Germantown; but the Precautions taken at the several Ferries over Schuylkill impeded their Junction; and those who assembled there, being made acquainted with the Force raised to oppose them, listened to the reasonable Discourses and Advice of some prudent Persons, who voluntarily went out to meet and admonish them; and of some Gentlemen sent by the Governor, to know the Reasons of their Insurrection; and promised to return peaceably to their Habitations, leaving only two of their Number to present a Petition to the Governor and Assembly; on which the Companies raised in Town were thanked by the Governor on Tuesday Evening, and dismissed, and the City restored to its former Quiet.

But on Wednesday Morning there was a fresh Alarm, occasioned by a false Report, that Four Hundred of the same People were on their March to Attack the Town: Immediately, on Beat of Drum, a much greater Number of the Inhabitants, with the utmost Alacrity, put themselves under Arms; but as the Truth was soon known, they were again thanked by the Governor, and dismissed; the Country People being really dispersed, and gone home according to their Promise.

Extract of a Letter from Carlisle, January 24, 1764.

"From Fort Frederick there is Advice, which, I think, may be depended on, of a Party of Indians having lately been down on Patterson's Creek, in Virginia, and driving off a Number of Horses and Hogs, but happily none of the Inhabitants fell into their Hands.---A Number of Families are again returned to their Dwellings in Shearman's Valley, and some of them begin to talk of putting in Spring Crops in those Parts, being in great Hopes that some vigorous Measures will be taken against the Savages in the Summer.----Excepting the above-mentioned Incursion, our Frontier now rests in Peace, and has done so for some Time past."

The Brig Peggy, Captain Wilson, from St Lucar, for this Port, having sprung a Leak at Sea, bore away for Antigua.

The PENNSYLVANIA GAZETTE.

Containing the Freſheſt Advices, Foreign and Domeſtic.

By the Earl of Halifax Packet, Captain Jefferies, arrived at New-York from Falmouth, we have the following Advices, viz.

WESTMINSTER, November 15.

THIS Day his Majeſty came to the Houſe of Peers, and being in his Royal Robes ſeated on the Throne with the uſual Solemnity, Sir Septimus Robinſon, Knt, Gentleman Uſher of the Black Rod, was ſent with a Meſſage from his Majeſty to the Houſe of Commons, commanding their Attendance in the Houſe of Peers. The Commons being come thither accordingly, his Majeſty was pleaſed to make the following moſt gracious Speech.

My LORDS and GENTLEMEN,

THE Re-eſtabliſhment of the Publick Tranquility upon Terms of Honour and Advantage to my Kingdoms, was the firſt great Object of my Reign: That ſalutary Meaſure has received the Approbation of my Parliament, and has ſince been happily completed, and carried into Execution, by the Definitive Treaty. It has been, and ſhall be my Endeavour, to enſure the Continuance of the Peace, by a faithful and ſteady Adherence to the Conditions upon which it was concluded: And I have the Satisfaction to acquaint you, that the ſeveral Powers of Europe, who were engaged againſt us in the late War, have given me the ſtrongeſt Aſſurances of the ſame good Diſpoſition. Our principal Care ought now to be employed to improve the valuable Acquiſitions which we have made, and to cultivate the Arts of Peace in ſuch a Manner, as may moſt effectually contribute to extend the Commerce, and to augment the Happineſs of my Kingdoms.

For theſe great Purpoſes I have called you together. It will ever be my earneſt Wiſh and Endeavour to demonſtrate to my People, by my Actions, the Love which I bear them; and I doubt not of receiving from them the grateful and juſt Returns of Duty and Affection.

Gentlemen of the Houſe of Commons,

I will order the Proper Eſtimates for the Service of the Year to be laid before you. The heavy Debts contracted in the Courſe of the late War, for many of which no Proviſion is yet made, call for your utmoſt Attention, and the ſtricteſt Frugality. I muſt however earneſtly recommend to you the Support of my Fleet, to which our paſt Succeſſes have been ſo much owing, and upon which the future Welfare and Importance of Great-Britain do moſt eſſentially depend. To eaſe my People of ſome Part of theſe Burthens, I have directed, as I promiſed at the End of the laſt Seſſion of Parliament, that the Money ariſing from the Sale of the Prizes veſted in the Crown, ſhould be applied to the Public Service. It is my Intention to reſerve, for the ſame Uſe, whatever Sums ſhall be produced by the Sale of any of the Lands belonging to me in the Iſlands of the Weſt-Indies, which were ceded to us by the late Treaty.

The Improvement of the Public Revenue, by ſuch Regulations as ſhall be judged moſt expedient for that Purpoſe, deſerves your ſerious Conſideration. This will be the ſureſt Means of reducing the national Debt, and of relieving my Subjects from thoſe Burthens, which the Expences of the late War have brought upon them; and will, at the ſame Time, eſtabliſh the Publick Credit upon the moſt ſolid Foundation.

My Lords and Gentlemen,

As the Intereſts and Proſperity of my People are the ſole Objects of my Care, I have only to deſire, that you will purſue ſuch Meaſures as are conducive to thoſe Ends, with Diſpatch and Unanimity. Domeſtick Union will be eſſentially neceſſary to remedy thoſe Evils which are the Conſequences of War, to enable us to reap the moſt permanent Advantages from the Concluſion of the Peace, and to diſcourage that licentious Spirit, which is repugnant to the true Principles of Liberty, and of this happy Conſtitution. In this Opinion I truſt that my Subjects will be confirmed by your Example; and that they will be taught by your Proceedings, to unite their utmoſt Endeavours to ſupport ſuch Meaſures as may equally tend to the Honour and Dignity of my Crown, and their own Security and Happineſs.

The Addreſs of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal to His Majeſty, in Anſwer to his Speech, is

3dly.---Declaring their Gratitude to Him for the Re-eſtabliſhment of Peace---Their firm Reliance on his Aſſurances to continue it---And the Satisfaction they had in hearing of the good Diſpoſition of the ſeveral Powers late at War to concur in his ſalutary Intentions.

4thly.---The Senſe they have of His Care and Attention to improve His Conqueſts, and the extending His Subjects Commerce; and that they would warmly forward thoſe His gracious Purpoſes. And,

5thly.---Their Conviction that, as Domeſtick Union was eſſentially neceſſary to ſecure the Advantages obtained by the Peace, they could not ſufficiently expreſs their Abhorrence of that ſeditious Spirit which had lately manifeſted itſelf, in Defiance of the Laws, to the Subverſion of good Order, and to the Diſgrace of Liberty, whoſe ſacred Name it had ſo inſolently aſſumed. They aſſured His Majeſty of their Endeavours to bring ſuch Offenders to Juſtice, the better (by Example) to diſcourage Licentiouſneſs,---too repugnant to the true Principles of our happy Conſtitution.-------

LONDON, November 17.

My LORDS,

THESE hearty Aſſurances of Your Loyalty and Affection are truly acceptable to Me; and I receive, with particular Satisfaction, your Congratulations upon the Birth of My ſecond Son.

Your Concurrence with Me, in purſuing the eſſential Objects of our National Attention, under the preſent happy Pacification, will be of great Importance towards the Succeſs of My Endeavours for ſecuring the Proſperity of My People.

I do both highly approve the Zeal which you profeſs, and firmly rely upon the Exertion of it againſt that licentious and factious Spirit, which is the moſt dangerous Enemy to our excellent invaluable Conſtitution."

The Humble Addreſs of the Houſe of Commons to the KING.

Moſt Gracious SOVEREIGN,

WE Your Majeſty's moſt dutiful and loyal Subjects, the Commons of Great-Britain, in Parliament aſſembled, beg Leave to return Your Majeſty the moſt humble and hearty Thanks of this Houſe, for Your moſt gracious Speech from the Throne.

Permit us, at the ſame Time, to offer our warmeſt Congratulations to Your Majeſty, on the auſpicious Birth of another Prince, and on the happy Recovery of Your Royal Conſort, now further endeared to this Country, by the Increaſe of thoſe Pledges of our Liberty and future Happineſs.

We beg Leave to congratulate Your Majeſty on the Completion of that great and ſalutary Meaſure, the Re-eſtabliſhment of the public Tranquility, upon Terms ſo honourable to Your Crown, and ſo advantageous to Your People.

Allow us, Sir, to aſſure Your Majeſty, that we feel the higheſt Satisfaction in the Declaration, which You are graciouſly pleaſed to make of Your Reſolution faithfully and readily to adhere to the Conditions of the Peace which Your Majeſty has concluded: And that we cannot but conſider the ſtrong Aſſurances of the ſame good Diſpoſition given, by the ſeveral Powers of Europe who were lately engaged againſt us, as the natural Conſequence of Your Majeſty's Wiſdom and Firmneſs; and as a further Preſage, that the Bleſſings of Peace will be uninterrupted and permanent.

We are truly ſenſible of that paternal Love to Your People, of which Your Majeſty is pleaſed to aſſure us, in ſo affecting a Manner; and we will aſſiduouſly apply ourſelves to the Accompliſhment of thoſe great Purpoſes, for which Your Majeſty has called us together; the Improvement of our valuable Acquiſitions, the Extenſion of our Commerce, and the cultivating of every Art of Peace, which may either tend to alleviate the heavy Burthens occaſioned by the War, or may otherwiſe contribute to the general Welfare of theſe Kingdoms.

We beg Leave to aſſure Your Majeſty, that Your faithful Commons will chearfully grant to Your Majeſty ſuch Supplies as ſhall be found neceſſary for the Service of the Year; that they will be careful to maintain the Navy of Great-Britain upon the moſt reſpectable Footing; and that they look upon Your Majeſty's earneſt Recommendation of this Important Object, as a Teſtimony of Your Royal Attention to the true and eſſential Intereſts of this Country.

We acknowledge, with the deepeſt Senſe of Gratitude, Your Majeſty's gracious and tender Concern for the Relief of Your People, by directing, that the Money, ariſing from the Sale of Prizes veſted in the Crown, ſhould be applied to the Public Service; and for that additional Mark of Your Royal Beneficence, in ſignifying Your Intention to reſerve for the ſame Uſe, whatever Sums ſhall be produced by the Sale of any of the Lands belonging to the Crown, in the Iſlands in the Weſt-Indies ceded by the late Treaty.

Your Majeſty may be aſſured, that we will beſtow the ſtricteſt Attention upon that intereſting Subject, which your Majeſty has pointed out to our ſerious Conſideration; and will diligently weigh every Regulation which may be propoſed for the Improvement of the publick Revenue, as the moſt effectual Method to reduce the national Debt, to relieve your Majeſty's Subjects from the Burthens of the late War, and to confirm and ſtrengthen the Public Credit.

We are thoroughly convinced, by the whole Tenor of Your Majeſty's moſt auſpicious Reign, that the common Good, and Proſperity of Your People, are the ſole Objects of Your Care; and that we ſhould therefore be wanting to ourſelves, and neglectful of our own Happineſs, if we did not purſue, with Unanimity and Diſpatch, ſuch Meaſures as may beſt contribute to theſe great Ends, and may moſt effectually diſcourage that Spirit of Diſorder and Licentiouſneſs, which is no leſs dangerous to Liberty, than deſtructive of Government.

Animated with theſe Sentiments, we will endeavour, by our own Conduct, to ſet an Example to others of Duty to our Sovereign, and of Love to our Country; being firmly perſuaded, that, under a Prince adorned with thoſe Virtues which diſtinguiſh Your Majeſty, Your real Intereſts and thoſe of Your People are inſeparable."

Conſtantinople, October 1. The diſturbances in Georgia, and the other frontiers of Perſia, increaſe daily. It is thought the Porte will ſoon march a body of forces that way.

We learn from Egypt, that the Arabs have begun again their incurſions into that province, and advanced as far as Alexandria, which was forced to open its gates to them; the conſequence of which was, that they carried off a great deal of plunder.

Erfurth, Oct. 29. All our letters from Saxony agree, that the Elector is determined to be a candidate for the crown of Poland; that his Electoral Highneſs is ſecure of the votes of ſeveral of the Grandees; and that he will ſoon ſend a ſolemn Embaſſy to Warſaw.

Dreſden, Oct. 30. Count Bruhl died on Friday evening. Every thing in his houſe was immediately ſealed up, and a ſtrong guard put about it for the ſecurity of his effects. Meſſ. Hennicke and Gartemberg, in whom he placed his chief confidence, are put under arreſt.

Hague, Nov. 8. We learn from Germany, that the affair of the county of Hanau, which the Langravine of of Heſſe Caſſel has excluſively poſſeſſed for above a year, will ſoon be laid before the Diet, by the Landgrave, her huſband, who ſtill diſputes his father's right to diſpoſe of that territory. The Landgrave is ſeconded in his claim by the Courts of Manheim and Munich; but the Margravine may depend on the powerful ſupports of the Courts of London and Berlin.

They write from Hamburgh, that many people think that the doing honour to the Ottoman Miniſter, which is aſſigned as the reaſon of the King of Pruſſia's aſſembling an army in the neighbourhood of Berlin, is only a pretext; however, all his deſigns are kept ſo cloſe, that time only can reveal them.

Colonel Brown, in the Britiſh ſervice, who has remained at Francfort ever ſince the war, to ſettle meaſures with the French Commiſſaries concerning the priſoners of that nation, is returning to Hanover, in his way to England, finding it impoſſible to do any buſineſs with thoſe Gentlemen.

Peterſburgh, Oct. 7. We daily receive confirmations of the hoſtilities committed by the Chineſe on our frontiers. It is ſaid that General Springer will command the troops that are to be ſent againſt them.

Oct. 14. General Nariſkin is unexpectedly arrived within theſe few days from his command on the frontiers of Ruſſia, towards Turkey and Barbary. He has had a ſecret conference with the Empreſs, which laſted three hours, but the public has not learnt any thing about it.

Vienna, Nov. 2. Baron Zwitzen, who is going to Warſaw, as Miniſter from this Court, about the election of a new King of Poland, is ordered to call firſt at Berlin, and feel the pulſe of the King of Pruſſia, about this affair.

Hamburgh, Nov. 11. It is reported, that as ſoon as they had accounts at Peterſburgh of the death of the King of Poland, the Court ſent orders to General Soltikow, to remain with the troops under his command on the frontiers of Poland; and ſeveral other corps were at the ſame time ordered to hold themſelves in readineſs to march on the firſt orders.

Verſailles, Nov. 10. We aſſure ourſelves that this Court, and the other powers in friendſhip and alliance with the preſent Elector of Saxony, are ready to employ their good offices for procuring his Royal Highneſs the Crown of Poland. It is well known, that in the life-time of the late King, thoſe powers declared, they would not willingly ſee the Crown of Poland removed from the Houſe of Saxony. However, it is whiſpered with great confidence, that theſe powers will employ no other meaſures than good offices, and will on no account take part in any broils or acts of violence, which may happen on this occaſion in Poland.

Genoa, Oct. 22. All the Nobles, who compoſe the Little Council, are ordered to repair to town, to deliberate on the meaſures to be taken with the Crown of France, relative to the iſland of Corſica.

Algiers, Oct. 17. On the fifth inſtant, in the morning, the Treaſurer and Prime Miniſter at this court who was deſtined to ſucceed the preſent Dey, was arreſted in his preſence, and inſtantly ſtrangled. The crime publicly imputed to him, was that of uſing magic againſt the King. Since this execution, according to the ſeverity uſually exerciſed in theſe caſes here, all his relations and friends have been privately put to death.

The French Conſul continues ſtill in chains, but has been removed from the common priſon to his own houſe.

Hague, Nov. 11. If we may credit advices from Paris, the Farmers-General are ſo much alarmed at the probability of the King's adopting the plan of taxation propoſed in the Richeſſes de l'Etat, that they have been with Madame Pompadour, and offered her immenſe ſums to prevent that plan from taking place.

Warſaw, Oct. 27. All the Saxon troops in this country, inſtead of being ordered to leave it, are, on the contrary, commanded to be cantoned in the towns and villages of this neighbourhood, ſo that they may be aſſembled, in caſe of need, in the ſpace of 24 hours.

Dreſden, Nov 1. They are removing from Count Bruhl's palace, to the archives of the Cabinet, all the papers that belong to our Sovereign, among which are thoſe of the late Count de Hennicke.

Hamburgh, Nov. 11. According to good advices from more than one quarter, there is no doubt that ſome powers are ſincerely diſpoſed to employ their good offices with the Republic of Poland, in favour of the Elector of Saxony, that he may be choſen King. If in the number of thoſe potentates (which our advices do not name) be the Empreſs of Ruſſia and the King of Pruſſia, his Electoral Highneſs may juſtly flatter himſelf with the hopes of ſucceeding.

Copenhagen, Nov. 5. We have advices from London and Amſterdam, that all the veſſels that were at anchor at our iſland of St. Thomas, in the Weſt Indies, are loſt, either by an earthquake or by a hurricane; and that great devaſtation is made in the iſland itſelf. We wait impatiently for a further account of this matter.

Dreſden, Nov. 6. This morning the ſeals were taken off the King's papers, and three wills appeared, all of an old date. He has left to each of the Princes his younger ſons, 20,000 crowns a year, and to each of the Princeſſes 12,000.

Gibraltar, Oct. 22. We learn that the Dutch Conſul having complained to the Emperor of Morocco, of a Dutch veſſel being carried into Algiers, that Prince, in the preſence of the Conſul, ſtruck off the head of the Captain, and threw it over the battlements; and gave orders at the ſame time to pull out the teeth, and cut off the beard of another Captain, who had taken an Engliſh veſſel, called the Charming Nelly, and told him, That his meeting with no worſe treatment was owing to his former captures.

LONDON, November 14.

Extract of a private Letter from France.

"There is certainly ſomething of importance now on the carpet, between this Court and that of Spain. A ſort of treaty, whereby the former are to be indulged with the benefit of a port in the Gulph of Darien, ſituated near the Iſthmus of Panama, between Carthagena and Portobello, in return, it is ſaid, for ſome conceſſions made to the latter in North-America."

Letters from Conſtantinople of October 1, ſay, that the Arabians had made a freſh irruption into Egypt, and had plundered and deſtroyed every thing they met with.

Nov. 5. Orders have been given for all perſons, who inhabit the apartments in Somerſet-houſe, immediately to quit them, that Palace being to be fitted up with all poſſible expedition, for the reception of his Serene Highneſs the Hereditary Prince of Brunſwick.

On a diſpute between two gentlemen, on the number of the Scotch now in places, a Court Calender was called for, and there were found; in the Treaſury, none--in the Exchequer, none---in the Admiralty, none---Board of Trade, none---Board of Green Cloth, none---Commiſſioners of the Cuſtoms, none---of the Exciſe, none---Lord Chamberlain's Office, none---nor a ſingle Scotchman in the Lord Steward's Office, War-office, Pay-office, Tax-office, nor Salt-office.

Letters from Hamburgh by yeſterday's mail adviſe, that the enſuing ſpring a ſquadron of twenty ſhips of the line, beſides frigates, will appear in the Baltick; but they don't mention of what nation.

From Dreſden we learn, that recruiting goes on very briſkly throughout that whole Electorate.

Nov. 16. Yeſterday a Court of Common-Council was held at Guildhall, when the Court, among other things, agreed on a petition to parliament for repealing ſo much of the late act for laying an additional duty on cyder and perry as ſubjects the makers thereof to exciſe laws; and the Sheriffs went up accordingly with the ſaid petition.

Nov. 17. The Houſe of Commons, which met on Tueſday, continued ſitting till two o'clock on Wedneſday morning.

We hear that it has been reſolved nem. con. in a certain place, that a work which was complained of, and ſeveral paſſages of which were read, was a moſt ſcandalous, obſcene, and impious libel, a groſs prophanation of many parts of the Holy Scripture, and a moſt wicked and blaſphemous attempt to ridicule and vilify the perſon of our Bleſſed Saviour. Evidence was offered to prove the work was written by a gentleman who has been lately the ſubject of much political diſpute, but the farther conſideration of it was deferred till this day,

We hear that the two volumes of North Britons are ordered to be burnt by the hands of the common hangman as a falſe, ſcandalous and malicious libel, bidding defiance to the legiſlation, and tending to excite his Majeſty's ſubjects to traiterous inſurrections againſt his Majeſty's government.

Yeſterday about twelve o'clock, a duel was fought in Hyde Park, between John Wilkes, Eſq; Member for Ayleſbury, and Samuel Martin, Eſq; Member for Camelford, and late Secretary of the Treaſury. At firſt, both their piſtols miſſed fire; at the ſecond attempt to fire, Mr. Martin's did the ſame again; upon which Mr. Wilkes deferred diſcharging his piſtol, and offered Mr. Martin the choice of either of his piſtols, which Mr. Martin refuſed. They then turned back to back; and upon turning about again, Mr. Martin diſcharged his piſtol, and the ball went into Mr. Wilkes's belly, about half an inch below the navel, and ſunk obliquely on the right ſide of the belly down towards the groin. Upon which Mr. Wilkes ſaid, Mr. Martin, take care of yourſelf, for you have done for me. Mr. Martin replied, he would get him what aſſiſtance he could; and perceiving a chariot at a diſtance, ran up to it, and told the perſon in it that a gentleman lay wounded on the graſs, and begged he would drive immediately out of the Park, and get a chair; which was done, and Mr. Wilkes was brought to his own houſe. A Surgeon being immediately ſent for, the ball was extracted, and the Surgeon was of opinion, that as it had not penetrated the abdomen, it would be attended with no bad conſequences. The occaſion of the above quarrel is ſaid to be Mr. M's declaring in a great aſſembly, that the Author of the North Briton, was a baſe, infamous, cowardly ſcoundrel, &c.----The paſſages in that paper, which are ſuppoſed to have given Mr. M. in particular very juſt cauſe of offence, the reader may find in No. 37, and 40.

The Iriſh Houſe of Commons have not voted the late peace diſadvantageous, diſhonourable, and inſecure, as has been aſſerted.

Nov. 18 The Britiſh troops from Martinico and Guadaloupe are arrived at Corke.

Yeſterday a Court of Common Council was ſummoned at Guildhall, upon ſome matters of great conſequence, to be laid before them by the Sheriffs of London; which is ſaid to be occaſioned by an expreſs from the cyder counties, deſiring the city would poſtpone their petition to Parliament until they are ready.

By the beſt accounts, Mr. Wilkes continues out of danger.

Letters from Stockholm adviſe, that the French Miniſtry have promiſed the Court of Sweden not only to pay all arrears of the ſubſidies due to her, but alſo to continue the ſubſidy, on condition that Sweden, inſtead of a number of land forces, as by the preſent treaty, ſhall keep in readineſs for the ſervice of France, ſix ſhips of war, properly fitted for ſea.

They tell us from Paris, of the 7th, that the Berryer indiaman, bound to the Iſle of France, and to China, is fitting out with all diligence at Port l'Orient. Theſe letters add, that the Controller-General, by order of the King, has refuſed to accept the reſignations of the Directors of that Company, and has promiſed them funds ſufficient to fit out three ſhips; which added to the produce of the rich cargoes of nine ſhips, expected home (they ſay) from the Eaſt-Indies before the end of the year, will help to keep up the Company.

Nov. 22. Orders are ſent to Deptford for building four new ſloops, of ſixteen guns each, which are to be employed for the protection of trade, and to prevent ſmuggling.

It is confidently reported, that an equitable and uſeful plan for a rotation of the troops through all the diſtant dominions, has been lately concerted by the Earl of Halifax, and the Secretary at War; which his Majeſty has been graciouſly pleaſed to approve of; and that it will be carried into execution, as ſoon as the ſeaſon will permit.

Mr. Wilkes continues in a fair way of recovery; but was not well enough to attend the Houſe of Peers this day, to be queſtioned concerning a moſt obſcene and highly blaſphemous treatiſe, which he is ſaid to have written ſome years ago, and of which he is charged with employing the preſs he ſet up laſt ſummer at his houſe in Great George-ſtreet, to caſt off ten or twelve freſh copies. To add, if poſſible, to the indecency of this piece, the Great George-ſtreet edition of it is made to bear, it is ſaid, in the title-page, the name of one Prelate, as the author, and the name of another as the annotator; both of whom are not more diſtinguiſhed by their great learning, which is univerſally acknowleged, than by their unblemiſhed morals, and their maſterly defences of the principal points of the Chriſtian Religion.

Nov. 23. Yeſterday his Royal Highneſs the Duke of Cumberland had a levee at his houſe in Upper Groſvenor-Street, at which were preſent upwards of 300 perſons of diſtinction.

The Right Hon. William Pitt attended yeſterday the ſervice of the Houſe, though he was ſo infirm with the gout, that he was obliged to be carried into the Houſe by two of his ſervants.

This day the ſubſcribers to the 2,800,000l. to be raiſed by four per cent. annuities, for the ſervice of the preſent year, made their laſt payment of 350,000l. at the Bank.

We hear that 4,000,000l. extraordinary ſupplies, will be requiſite to make good deficiencies that have occurred during the courſe of the late war.

The King of Pruſſia, in conſideration of the loſſes and ſufferings of his ſubjects in the county of Cleves by the late war, intends to remit part of their taxes for a year or two, in order that they may retrieve themſelves.

Tueſday the Houſe of Lords deferred the farther conſideration of Mr. Wilkes's affair till that day ſe'nnight, on account of his incapacity to attend that houſe. We find that there is only one Prelate mentioned in the blaſphemous poem which Mr. Wilkes is charged with being the author of; the notes upon it being put in his Lordſhip's name: Which it is imagined he was led to make uſe of, from his being ſo well known in the literary world, and particularly for his writings in defence of Chriſtianity.

Nov. 25. Letters from Berlin adviſe, that the Turkiſh Envoy had a public audience on the 9th inſt. and that the diamond buttons which his Majeſty wore that day on his cloaths, were valued at nine millions of florins (above 500,000 l. ſterling.)

Nov. 26. Yeſterday being the birth-day of his Royal Highneſs Prince William Henry, ſecond brother to his Majeſty, who then entered into his 21ſt year, their Majeſties received compliments on the occaſion at St. James's, and the Princeſs Dowager at Leiceſter-houſe.

The Houſe of Commons ſat till two o'clock yeſterday morning.

Extract of a Letter from Gibraltar, Oct. 20.

"We are in daily expectation of a Royal Viſitant; great preparations are making on this occaſion, and it is ſaid there will be much ceremony at his reception. It is not, that I hear, yet determined where he will reſide during his ſtay, unleſs it is at the Convent.

"Our fortifications are ſtronger than ever, ſo that we ſhall be in no fear in caſe of a future war. Willis's battery has received ſuch alterations during the laſt Spaniſh war, particularly by a large addition of cannon, mortars, and cohorns, that it can now command the whole bay. The chief of our Shipwrights, &c. in the dock-yard, have quitted this place, and are gone to Mahon, and many of our traders have alſo left us. We are as great with the Spaniards as if there had been no war; they flock in daily, and, what I think is rather want of policy, they are at moſt times permitted to view our fortifications; it is happy for us there are but few able engineers among them."

A young married Lady, who died a few days ſince, was, at her own requeſt, buried in all her wedding garments, conſiſting of a white negligee and petticoats, which were quilted into a mattraſs, pillows and lining to her coffin; her wedding ſhift was her winding ſheet, with a fine point lace tucker, handkerchief, ruffles, and apron; alſo a fine point lace lappet head, and a handkerchief tied cloſely over it, with diamond ear-rings in her ears, and rings on her fingers, a very fine necklace, white ſilk ſtockings, ſilver-ſpangled ſhoes, and ſtone buckles.

They write from Paris, that a treaty of the utmoſt importance is negotiating between the Courts of France and Spain, and nearly completed.

Some advices from Spain mention, that a perſon has been impriſoned at Madrid for having publiſhed a pamphlet, entituled, The advantages accruing to Spain from the trade and commerce of Great Britain.

Some gentlemen of great experience in American affairs, had laſt week another audience with the Lords of Trade; and it is ſaid that a new project, which is now on the carpet, will make its appearance early in the ſpring, ſupported by powerful Subſcriptions, intituled, The Royal Newfoundland Britiſh Company.

Extract of a letter from Amſterdam, Nov. 15.

"The naval preparations made in theſe provinces for ſome months paſt certainly merit the attention of the Engliſh Government. An intention of breaking with England is far from being openly avowed; on the contrary, the great men here deny there is any ſuch deſign. On the Exchanges there are every day certain men who continually rail againſt the Engliſh, ſaying, they are an arrogant, overbearing, haughty nation, and that it is fit their great and inſupportable pride ſhould be ſomewhat humbled, and other expreſſions to the like effect they frequently make uſe of. The populace, which among theſe is ever ready for miſchief, greedily ſwallow theſe baits, and exclaim, in their turn, againſt theſe inſolent iſlanders, as they frequently call us."

His Grace the Duke of Bolton, the Right Hon. Earl Temple, and Mr. Pitt, &c. waited on Mr. Wilkes the Moment he was carried home after receiving his Wound.

NEW-YORK, February 6.

We have theſe farther Intelligences by the Packet juſt arrived, That when the Parliament met [15th November] in the Houſe of Lords Complaint was made by the Biſhop of Glouceſter, of a Breach of Privilege by Wilkes, his publiſhing an infamous obſcene Book called, An Eſſay on the Duty of Women, under his Name, as Author, &c. That in the Houſe of Commons Wilkes ſtood up, and began to lay his Grievance before the Houſe, but was interrupted by Mr. Grenville, who told the Speaker he had a Meſſage from the King; and though it is a Rule to break off all Debate, in order to give due Attention and Reſpect to the King's Meſſage, yet Wilkes was called upon by ſome to proceed; and it was moved to ſuſpend the Meſſage till Mr. W. was heard. This occaſioned a Debate, and a Diviſion 301 for receiving the Meſſage---110 for hearing W. That the Meſſage was then read, complaining of the North-Briton, &c.---A warm Conteſt aroſe. Lord North in the Support of the Meſſage, was anſwered by Mr. P---, who [they ſay] ſpoke long in Favour of Mr. W. They ſat till Morning, when it was agreed by the Majority, That the 45th No. of the North-Briton was a falſe, ſeditious, factious Libel; and ordered to be burnt by the common Hangman: And Mr. Wilkes, the ſuppoſed Author, ordered to attend at the Bar of the Houſe the next Day. That in the Courſe of the Debate, Mr. Martin, late Secretary to the Treaſury, ſaid that the Author of that Paper was a Scoundrel, a Villain, and a Coward. Mr. Wilkes took an Opportunity to talk to Mr. Martin;---a Challenge ſoon followed, the Conſequence of which was, that Mr. Wilkes could not attend the Houſe, according to Order, on Account of the Wound he received in the Duel.---It is thought the Cenſure of the Commons,---the Diſpleaſure of the Lords,---and the many Proceſſes depending in the Courts of Law, muſt tame Mr. Wilkes, notwithſtanding his high Spirits.------

"That on that Day, between Six and Seven in the Morning, a Centry, and ſome others, obſerved a great Smoke, which appeared to come from the Plantation of one James Ruſſell: That he, the Officer, likewiſe ſeeing the Smoke, immediately marched with 20 Men, to know the Cauſe of it, when he found the Barn on Fire, and ſaw a great many Indian Tracks, by which he concluded their Number muſt have been 50 or upwards: That in the Barn he found a Lad, and a Horſe, roaſted, and imagines that another Lad was either killed or carried off, as they got his Clothes, but could not find the Body: That on further examining the Tracks of the Enemy, it appeared that ſome of them had croſſed Pocono Creek, the Way they came, and others went towards the New Guiney Settlement; upon which our People likewiſe croſſed the Creek, and marched to the Head of the Dutch Settlement, where it was thought they intended next to ſtrike, and brought off the Inhabitants to the Fort: That he was afraid the Guiney People were cut off, as he had got but one Family from that Quarter, and his Diſpatches had not returned: And that he was to march the next Day by Day-light, with a Party of Voluntiers, in Purſuit of the Indians, which he propoſed to continue for three or four Days, in order to come up with them."

Baltimore County, Maryland, January 20, 1764.

THIRTEEN DOLLARS Reward.

LAST Night the Houſe of the Subſcriber was broke open, by a certain JOHN DENT, who lived near the Premiſes, and has left ſome Marks of his Villainy behind him; he pretends to be a Carpenter, a ſlim built Fellow, with black Hair, tied behind, a remarkable Scar on his right Cheek, which he ſays he got by a Stroke from a Cutlaſs, born in Charles County, about 28 or 30 Years old, of a whitiſh Look, 5 Feet 6 or 8 Inches high, a very ſorry Fellow as to Manhood, an uncommon Liar, and very daring and impudent to ſome People, and to others very complaiſant and obliging; he may be taken by a Boy of 15 Years old, if reſolute; his Apparel an old blue Coat, white Cloth Breeches, ſpotted Flannel Waiſtcoat, blue Worſted Stockings, one ſtriped Linnen Shirt, but has taken out of the ſaid Houſe two Coats and two Waſtcoats, a Pair of Pumps and a Hat, belonging to John Morris, Overſeer at the ſaid Place, and it may be thought he may change his Clothes, if he ſhould put on any of Morris's Clothes, it may readily be diſcovered they are not his, being too big for him. He likewiſe ſtole out of ſaid Houſe a very genteel Saddle, with Hogſkin Seat, made by Mr. Joſeph Jacobs, in Philadelphia, with a neat blue fringed Houſing, a Pair of Saddle Bags, made to go behind the Saddle, and Buckle to the Girt, old Faſhion. And, worſe than all, he has ſtole a remarkable fine Mare out of the Stable cloſe by the Houſe he broke on the ſame Plantation; the Mare is about 15 or 16 Hands high, 8 Years old, of a whitiſh grey, her Mane hangs very handſome all to the right Side, is very ſtraight made behind, paces and gallops well. He took a half Kirb Bridle, with very long Reins, made by the aforeſaid Jacobs. Whoever takes up the ſaid Thief, and ſecures him ſo as to be brought to Juſtice, and that the Owner may get his Mare, Bridle and Saddle, ſhall be paid the above Reward by EDWARD DAY.

N. B. It is thought he has ſtole many other Things, but at this Time, being in ſo great a Hurry after him, have not Time to enquire. ¶

WHereas the Subſcribers have been informed that it was reported in Pennſylvania and the Jerſies, that that valuable Tract of Land of theirs, lying upon Deer Creek, in Baltimore County, Maryland, which was formerly adverтiſed by them in the Pennſylvania Gazzette for Sale, was ſold to the Tenant who lived thereon; which Report, although groundleſs, they apprehend has been a Means of ſtopping the Sale of the ſaid Land, which has induced them to take this Method to acquaint thoſe Gentlemen Farmers who are in want of a beautiful Farm of rich well timbered Land, attended with all the Conveniencies almoſt that they could wiſh for; alſo ſuch Gentlemen that are in want of a convenient and valuable Place for building of Iron Works or Mills, may ſtill be ſupplied, by applying to the Subſcribers; for further Particulars in regard to the ſaid Land, they will find by turning to the Pennſylvania Gazettes that were printed about 9 Months ago; the ſaid Land is patent Land, and will be ſold together or divided, as will beſt ſuit the Purchaſers, and, upon Payment of one Half of the Purchaſe money, may have Time of Payment for the reſt, upon giving their Bonds upon Intereſt. The ſaid Land is incumbered with a Widow's Thirds, but the Purchaſer may either have it with that Incumbrance, or have it clear of that, which is the only Incumbrance whatſoever attending it; as they have an indiſputable Title, and hold it under the Taker-up of the ſame, the Purchaſer or Purchaſers may have it very cheap conſidering the Value of the Land, and the many Advantages attending of it.

The PENNSYLVANIA GAZETTE.

Containing the Freſheſt Advices, Foreign and Domeſtic.

By the Duke of Cumberland Packet, Captain Goodridge, arrived at New-York from Falmouth, in 8 Weeks and 3 Days Paſſage, we have the following Advices, viz.

The Humble ADDRESS of the Right Honourable the LORDS SPIRITUAL and TEMPORAL. Nov. 15, 1763.

Moſt Gracious SOVEREIGN,

WE, Your Majeſty's moſt dutiful and loyal Subjects, the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, in Parliament aſſembled, beg Leave to return Your Majeſty our unfeigned Thanks for Your moſt gracious Speech from the Throne.

Permit us, Sir, to take the earlieſt Opportunity of congratulating Your Majeſty on the happy Addition to Your Royal Family, by the auſpicious Birth of a Second Prince, and of expreſſing our moſt ſincere Wiſhes, that the ſame divine Bleſſing may be continued to Your Majeſty's illuſtrious Houſe, on which the Preſervation of our holy Religion, and our Rights and Liberties, do, under God, ſo eſſentially depend.

We beg Leave alſo to declare our utmoſt Gratitude to Your Majeſty, for the Re-eſtabliſhment of the public Tranquility upon Terms of Honour to Your Crown, and Advantage to Your People. We have the firmeſt Reliance on Your Majeſty's moſt gracious Aſſurances of Your Endeavours to ſecure the Continuance of a Peace ſo neceſſary to the Relief of Your Subjects, who have long laboured under the Burthen of a moſt expenſive, though ſucceſsful War, in every Part of the Globe; and we receive, with great Satisfaction, the Communication which Your Majeſty has been pleaſed to make to us, of the good Diſpoſition of the ſeveral Powers engaged in the late War, whoſe Concurrence in Your Majeſty's ſalutary Intentions will, we truſt, long enſure the Tranquility of Europe.

We are deeply ſenſible of Your Majeſty's paternal Care and Attention for the Improvement of Your Conqueſts, and the Extenſion of the Commerce of Your Subjects, in which the public Welfare is ſo materially concerned; and we will not fail, on our Part, to exert our warmeſt Endeavours in forwarding Your Majeſty's great and gracious Purpoſes. For we have nothing more ſincerely at Heart, than that Your Majeſty, having by Your Conduct impreſſed on the Minds of Your faithful Subjects a full Conviction of Your true Affection, may receive from them the moſt ample Returns of Duty and Attachment which a loyal and grateful People can make.

Convinced, as we are, that domeſtick Union is eſſentially neceſſary for ſecuring the Advantages derived to us from the late happy and honourable Peace, we cannot ſufficiently expreſs our Abhorrence of that ſeditious Spirit which has of late manifeſted itſelf in Defiance of the Laws, to the Subverſion of good Order, and to the Diſgrace of Liberty, whoſe ſacred Name it has ſo inſolently aſſumed. And we beg Leave to aſſure Your Majeſty, that by our Zeal and Application in bringing all Offenders of that Sort to Juſtice, as well as by our Proceedings in general, we will endeavour to give ſuch an Example as may induce Your Majeſty's Subjects to unite in diſcouraging a Licentiouſneſs which is ſo repugnant to the true Principles of this happy Conſtitution, and in promoting ſuch Meaſures as may equally conduce to the Honour and Dignity of Your Majeſty's Crown, and to their own Happineſs and Security."

Extract from the Votes, &c.

And the Queſtion being put, that thoſe Words ſtand Part of the Queſtion, the Houſe divided. Yeas 111 Noes 300

I am commanded by his Majeſty to acquaint this Houſe, that his Majeſty having received Information that John Wilkes, Eſq; a Member of this Houſe, was the Author of a moſt ſeditious Libel, publiſhed ſince the laſt Seſſion of Parliament: He had cauſed the ſaid John Wilkes, Eſq; to be apprehended and ſecured, in order to his being tried for the ſame by due Courſe of Law; and Mr. Wilkes having been diſcharged out of Cuſtody by the Court of Common Pleas, upon Account of his Privilege as a Member of this Houſe, and having been called upon by the legal Proceſs of the Court of King's Bench, ſtood out and declined to appear and anſwer to an Information, which has ſince been exhibited againſt him, by his Majeſty's Attorney General, for the ſame Offence. In this Situation his Majeſty being deſirous to ſhew all poſſible Attention to the Privileges of the Houſe of Commons, in every Inſtance wherein they can be ſuppoſed to be concerned, and at the ſame time thinking it of the utmoſt Importance not to ſuffer the public Juſtice of the Kingdom to be eluded, has choſen to direct the ſaid Libel, and alſo Copies of the Examinations, upon which Mr. Wilkes was apprehended and ſecured, to be laid before this Houſe, for their Conſideration.

Reſolved, That an humble Addreſs be preſented to his Majeſty, to return his Majeſty the Thanks of this Houſe for his moſt gracious Meſſage, and for the tender Regard therein expreſſed for the Privileges of this Houſe; and to aſſure his Majeſty that this Houſe will forthwith take into their moſt ſerious Conſideration, the very important Matter, communicated by his Majeſty's Meſſage.

And a Queſtion being propoſed, that the Paper, entituled, The North-Briton, No. 45, is a falſe, ſcandalous, and ſeditious Libel, containing Expreſſions of the moſt unexampled Inſolence and Contumely towards his Majeſty; the groſſeſt Aſperſions upon both Houſes of Parliament, and the moſt audacious Defiance of the Authority of the whole Legiſlature, and moſt manifeſtly tending to alienate the Affections of the People from his Majeſty, to withdraw them from their Obedience to the Laws of the Realm, and to excite them to traiterous Inſurrections againſt his Majeſty's Government.

A Motion was made, and the Queſtion put to leave out the Words, "and to excite them to traiterous Inſurrections againſt his Majeſty's Government."

The Houſe divided, Yeas 111. Noes 273.

Then the Queſtion, as firſt propoſed, was agreed to; and the ſaid Paper ordered to be burnt by the Hands of the common Hangman.

The further Conſideration of the Meſſage adjourned till To-morrow 12 o'Clock.

The humble Addreſs of the Right Honourable the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and Commons, in Parliament aſſembled. Preſented to His Majeſty on the Fifth of December, 1763.

Die Jovis, 1 Decembris, 1763.

Moſt GRACIOUS SOVEREIGN,

WE, Your Majeſty's moſt dutiful and faithful Subjects, the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and Commons, in Parliament aſſembled, having taken into our Conſideration a late falſe, ſcandalous, and ſeditious Libel, intituled, The North Briton, No. 45, think it our indiſpenſable Duty to expreſs our Surpriſe and Indignation at finding, that neither the publick nor private Virtues which ſo eminently entitle Your Majeſty to the higheſt Veneration, as well as to the moſt grateful and loyal Attachment of all Your Subjects, nor the gracious Expreſſions of Your tender Care and Affection for Your People in Your Majeſty's Speech from the Throne at the End of the laſt Seſſion of Parliament, which has been thus infamouſly traduced, ſhould have been ſufficient to ſecure Your Majeſty from ſo inſolent and unexampled an Indignity.

Such, indeed, has been Your Majeſty's uniform Adherence to the Principles of our happy Conſtitution, and ſuch the uninterrupted Harmony and good Correſpondence between Your Majeſty and Your Parliament, that it is no Wonder to ſee that the ſame audacious Hand which hath dared thus groſly to affront Your Majeſty, ſhould, at the ſame time, violate the other ſacred Regards preſcribed by the Laws and Conſtitution of this Country; aſperſing and calumniating every Branch of the Legiſlature, and endeavouring to excite, amongſt all Ranks of Your Majeſty's Subjects, ſuch a Spirit of Diſcord and Diſobedience, as could end in nothing but the total Subverſion of all lawful Government.

Permit us alſo to expreſs to Your Majeſty our firm Perſuaſion and juſt Confidence, that this moſt extravagant and outrageous Attempt will prove as impotent as it is wicked; that inſtead of anſwering thoſe Purpoſes for which it appears to have been calculated, it will, on the contrary, ſerve to excite in Your faithful Subjects the Abhorrence of ſuch dangerous Practices, to unite them more firmly in their zealous Attachment to your Majeſty's Perſon and Government, and in a due Reverence for the Authority of the Legiſlature; and laſtly, that in conſequence of Your Majeſty's Directions to proſecute the Authors of this infamous Libel, it will bring ſuch Puniſhment upon thoſe who ſhall be found guilty of ſo atrocious a Crime, as the Laws of their Country have preſcribed, and as the Publick Juſtice and Safety ſhall demand.

His MAJESTY's moſt Gracious Anſwer.

My LORDS and GENTLEMEN,

THE very affectionate Zeal which you expreſs for the Vindication of My Honour, and your declared Reſolution to ſupport the Authority of Parliament, cannot fail of being extremely grateful to Me. It has been hitherto, and it always ſhall be My Care, to regulate My Conduct according to the Principles of the Conſtitution. I will not therefore be wanting in carrying the Laws into Execution againſt all who ſhall preſume to violate any of thoſe Principles: And in this Reſolution I doubt not of receiving the hearty Concurrence and Support both of My Parliament and My People.

Warſaw, Nov. 5. The Count de Keyſerling, Ambaſſador from Ruſſia, has, by the expreſs order of the Empreſs his Sovereign, declared to the Prince Primate, and the Senators now aſſembled here, that her Imperial Majeſty would be much pleaſed to ſee them elect one of their Grandees to be King of Poland, and not any foreign Prince. The Sieur Benoit, Reſident from the Court of Berlin, has made the ſame declaration on the part of the King his Maſter, who has enjoined him to act in this reſpect in concert with the Ruſſian Miniſter.

Dunkirk, Nov. 15. The cunette is entirely filled up, excepting a trifling part, near which there was no earth; but in a very little time this part will be alſo filled from the rubbiſh of the town. Three hundred men are employed on the demolition of the King's baſon.

Peterſburgh, Oct. 29. Eight battalions, draughted from the troops that were lately under the command of General Czernichew, are ordered to march to the frontiers of Poland. All the Colonels and other Field-officers have received orders to join their reſpective regiments. It is ſaid that certain Powers have already taken meaſures for placing Prince Czartoriſky on the Poliſh throne.

Berlin, Nov. 12. The report of ſome of our troops marching towards Poland, is entirely groundleſs.

Melille, Oct. 24. The Emperor of Morocco decamped the 14th inſtant from the neighbourhood of this city, with all his army, being forced ſo to do by the very great rains which overflowed the river Nacimiento, upon the banks of which his camp was ſituated; add to this, that the country was too poor to ſupport ſuch an army, which at the ſame time was too far from the capital to get proviſions from thence.

Madrid, Nov. 8. Our Miniſtry is very much diſſatisfied with the republic of Venice, for entering into treaties with ſome of the ſtates of Barbary.

Berlin, Nov. 19. The King has approved and confirmed the ſentence paſſed by the Council of War againſt Gen. de Zaſtrow, late governor of Schweidnitz; Col. D'O, governor of Glatz; and Col. de Quaadt, commander of a regiment in the laſt-mentioned place: In conſequence of which, the firſt is to be confined two years in the fortreſs of Neiſs, and then broke; the ſecond is to be confined for life at Breſlau; and the laſt, after being confined four years, is to be broke, and then conducted to the frontiers, and baniſhed from the King's dominions for ever.

Paris, Nov. 20. On the 16th, the Parliament of Rouen, all the Chambers aſſembled, paſſed an arret, annulling the tranſcriptions and eraſures, made by violence in their Regiſter, by the Duke de Harcourt, to the prejudice of the laws of the realm, by virtue of a pretended arret of Council, which carried no mark of the royal authority: Wherefore the Parliament, adhering to their former arrets and reſolutions, ordered, That the edicts and declarations of the month of April ſhall not be executed under pain of the puniſhment of peculation. Reſolved, That repeated remonſtrances be preſented to the King. Ordered, That the preſent arret be ſent to all the Bailiwicks of this juriſdiction, there to be read, regiſtered, and executed; and in conſideration of the impoſſibility of having this arret executed by the King's Attorney-General, Ordered, That it be tranſmitted to the ſeveral Bailiwicks by the Greffier, in a letter, the form of which ſhall be given him.

Francfort, on the Mayne, Nov. 28. M. Grieſbach, Auditor General of England [ſo he is ſtiled in the Hague Gazette] and M. de la Salle, a French Commiſſary at War, are arrived there, to ſettle the account of the expences of maintaining the priſoners on both ſides during the late war.

Marſeilles, Nov. 26. The Board of Trade of this place have received letters from our Conſul at Algiers, adviſing, that he was ſtill in irons in his own houſe; that however the Dey had told him, he did not deſire war; and, as a proof thereof, he had cut off the head of the Miniſter who firſt adviſed him to put the French in irons, and had occaſioned the popular inſurrection; but that, to appeaſe the people, the French muſt pay for the galliot which they had ſunk, and for the forty Turks that were on board, and all damages, and ſatisfy ſome other claims which his people had on the French.

Genoa, Nov. 12. This Republic having received notice that the Corſican malecontents had marched a body of their men to a ſmall diſtance from San Fiorenza, and that a half galley and a galliot kept cruizing near the entrance of the harbour, inſomuch that the town is in a manner blockaded by ſea and land; the Republic has ordered a large bark, and a galliot to be fitted out with all poſſible expedition, and they are to ſail in two or three days, to drive the Corſican cruizers from their ſtation, and to open the communication by ſea with the town above-mentioned.

Early this morning arrived his Britannic Majeſty's ſhip the Valeur, in 14 days from Liſbon, and brought orders to the Engliſh Conſul from Commodore Harriſon, to prepare a houſe for him, proper for the reception of his Royal Highneſs the Duke of York, who is ſhortly expected.

Turin, Nov. 19. Some French merchant ſhips are arved at Marſeilles, being releaſed from Algiers; by which it is underſtood, that the differences between the French and the Algerines are accommodated.

LONDON.

Nov. 29. We can assure the public, that the report of any extraordinary supplies to be raised for the current year, is entirely without foundation.

There having been, for some time past, a scarcity of meal in the markets of Edinburgh, a mob assembled yesterday se'nnight at night, broke up the girnels in the meal market, and carried off what meal was there; rifled and destroyed the house of the Tackman of the market, and carried off or broke to pieces all his furniture; and continued all that night and next day to commit several other outrages in that city and in Leith.

And on Tuesday night at Leith, above 500 bolls of meal were carried off, or destroyed, by the mob.

The more effectually to put a stop to these tumults, the whole regiment of Scotch Grey dragoons were expected on Wednesday night, and are to be quartered at Leith, Canongate, and other places in the neighbourhood.

Nov. 30. It is said that an augmentation of our land forces will soon be made, and that commissions are preparing for the officers who are to serve therein.

The Right Hon. William Pitt, Esq; is greatly indisposed with the gout, which indisposition, it is said, has been increased by his close attendance in parliament.

When the post left Edinburgh, the mob still continued very outrageous, and the inhabitants there and at Leith were under the greatest apprehensions of the consequence, notwithstanding the Magistrates have taken every precaution to prevent bloodshed, which is often the case when riots happen there.

Prince Czartorinski, being a Lithuanian nobleman, will be opposed, at the general election of a King of Poland, by Count Poniatowski, a native of Great Poland, who, no doubt, will have the majority, there being a great jealousy between the Polanders and Lithuanians.

It is reported, that a great personage's fortune, at her marriage, will be Eighty Thousand Pounds in money.

Dec. 2. Letters from Ratisbon pretend, that the Empress of Russia has declared that she will not suffer the throne of Poland to be filled by a foreigner.

Advices from the Hague of the 22d past, inform us, that the report which prevailed there of the speedy recal of General Yorke, was entirely dropped.

It is said the present ministry will this year make a saving of upwards of two millions.

Extract of a letter from Berlin, Nov. 20.

"You may now assure yourself, that if our monarch's brother does not declare himself a candidate for the throne of Poland, the whole weight of the Prussian interest will be thrown into Prince Czartorinski's scale, who, in that case, will certainly be elected, as the court of Petersburgh go h nd in hand with our court in this affair. Yesterday morning a courier arrived here with dispatches from Russia, and, in the afternoon, another from the same country; but to enquire into the nature of their letters would be vain, as our monarch reads all the foreign dispatches himself, and does not always communicate them even to his ministry. He knows how to keep a secret, especially if it regards himself, or his people, and also when and how to divulge it."

By some private letters from Edinburgh we are informed, that the mob continues very riotous, breaking open all the warehouses and cellars where oatmeal was lodged, sold it cheap to those who could buy, and gave the rest to the poor, and also insulted the Lord Provost in his chariot, and wounded him in the face.

The Lætitia, Hammond, from Virginia to London, is ashore on the Pollard Bank, off Whitstable; and the Mary, Thompson, from ditto to ditto, is ashore on the Spaniard.

Dec. 5. On Saturday last there was the greatest mob assembled at the Royal Exchange, to see No. 45. of the North Briton burnt, that has been seen there for a long while. About 12 the mob began to divert themselves with several bye-battles. At half an hour after 12 a man appeared with a large bundle of billet faggots, preceded by Jack Ketch with a lighted link, on which the mob immediately began with hissings, hootings, and peltings, and after they were put on the ground, it was with the greatest difficulty that the mob were kept from seizing them by the Constables, of whom there were a great number, who owed their own preservation to their resolution, which never was so much exerted by any Constables as on this occasion, as the heads of many of the mob can testify. During this time, and the coming up of the Sheriffs, there was one continued hustling of the Constables, accompanied with shoutings, hissings, and pelting them with dirt. When Mr. Alderman Harley's chariot, which came first, approached the place, the horses were so frightened at the horrible noise, and the lighted link, that they could not be got to the place, on which Mr. Sheriff Harley got out of his chariot, attended by the City Marshal, Constables, &c. and came to the place, where he read the order for burning the North Briton; all which time the noises continued, and some dirt fell on his head; and when he had done reading, the North Briton was put on the link (for the mob would not suffer Jack Ketch, who held it, to light the faggots) and just as it began to blaze, great part of it was knocked off, and fell on the ground; the Sheriff then retired to his chariot, and the mob then breaking in, seized the short billets, and began to fall foul of the Constables, who were glad to retreat. The mob then began pelting the Constables, and the Sheriff in his chariot, with the billets, whereby many persons were much hurt, and the Sheriff's coachman and footmen were in great danger of being knocked off the chariot; but what was worst of all, the great front glass of Mr. Sheriff Harley's chariot was broke all to pieces by a billet thrown at it, and himself much wounded in the head thereby, and some say his arm was much hurt; on which Mr. Harley immediately jumped out, and went to Mr. Deputy Ellis's. Soon after a young fellow was brought to the Mansion-house for pelting, and, after being examined, was committed to Newgate, on the oath of one of the Constables, by the name of John Franklin; another, it is said, was sent to the Compter.

Great preparations are making to furnish Somerset-house for the reception of the Hereditary Prince of Brunswick; and several loads of rich crimson velvet, and other grand furniture, have been carried there from Kensington-palace.

The remains of the burnt North Briton was, when it dropped out of the executioner's hand, seized by a man dressed in a livery, who put it into his pocket, and immediately disappeared.

Saturday night a large bonfire was made just without Temple-Bar, on account of the North Briton not having yet received its intended destination, when a large jack-boot, stuffed with straw, was burnt in effigy, amidst the acclamations of a large body of spectators.

His Serene Highness the Hereditary Prince of Brunswick is expected at St. James's on Wednesday the 28th instant.

Sunday a warrant was sent from the Secretary of State's office to the Lord Mayor, for diligent search to be made after such persons as were concerned in the riot last Saturday at the Royal Exchange, on burning the North Briton, that they may be dealt with according to law.

The Polly, Cock, from Virginia to London, is ashore in Margate road, and it is feared will be lost.

They advise from Italy, that a convention was concluded between the Court of France and Republic of Genoa, by which it is agreed, that the former should assist the latter with 4000 men; but the particulars were not known.

The Earl of Shelburn has resigned the post of Aid de Camp to the King.

They write from Gibraltar, of the 3d ult. that the Emperor of Morocco, after having subdued all his enemies, and made them tributary to him, was returned to Fez.

The Hereditary Prince of Brunswick, on his marriage with the Princess Augusta, will have an annuity of 5000 l. per ann. on the Irish Establishment, and 3000 l. on the revenues of Hanover.

Dec. 8. On Tuesday one of the most interesting points of civil liberty was determined in a cause in Westminster-hall, before the truly patriotic and Right Honourable Lord Chief Justice Pratt, and a special Jury of the Gentlemen of the county of Middlesex, wherein John Wilkes, Esq; was Plaintiff, and Robert Wood, Esq; Member for Brackley, and late under Secretary of State, was Defendant (for seizing Mr. Wilkes's papers, as the supposed author of the North Briton, No, 45) when, after an hearing of near fifteen hours, and many learned arguments on both sides, and a most masterly, pathetic and eloquent charge given by his Lordship (the Jury withdrawing for half an hour) a verdict was given for the Plaintiff, with One Thousand Pounds damages, with full costs of suit.

It was thought there was the greatest concourse of people in Westminster-hall ever known, who shewed the profoundest attention to the discussion of a cause, that in the highest degree affected the most sacred and invaluable rights and liberties of Englishmen; and immediately after the verdict was pronounced, there were the loudest acclamations that can possibly be imagined.

They write from Hamburgh, of the 18th ult. that they had an account from Brandenburg, which assured them, that the Prussian Observation army of 40 or 50,000 men, had received orders to march to the frontiers of Poland.

We hear from Margate, that on the 2d instant they had a very hard gale of wind at N. and by W. which made a very high tide, and the greatest sea that has been known in the memory of man. The sea had a free passage over the new pier head, made several breaches quite through the same, and beat down the greatest part, together with the light, which served as a guide for vessels coming there in the night. The gun battery was thrown down, and the cannon into the sea. All the jetties suffered, several breaches being made, that there is no passage for carriages. A great many shops and warehouses were thrown into the sea. Several removed their goods, expecting to be all down the next tide, which inevitably would have been, if the wind and sea had kept up. A great deal of the craft suffered, being dashed to peices.

Dec. 9. We hear the late storm of wind has done as much damage in France and Holland, as it has in England.

A letter from Edinburgh, dated Nov. 26, to a gentleman in Nottingham, says, From ten o clock on Monday night till Wednesday morning, the battle was incessant between the soldiers and the mob. On Tuesday evening the mob went from Edinburgh to Leith, where the battle was dreadful; the soldiers were entirely defeated, several of them killed, and many more dangerously wounded; the rest were drove back to Edinburgh. As soon as they had entered the city, all the gates were shut, and the mob on the outside. The whole city was in confusion, and every thing bore the appearance of a state of war. At last the enraged mob set fire to the city gates, broke down the wall and fortification, and entered the city. Now, for the first time, the vollies dispersed the mob, and a regiment of dragoons coming in, has kept them very quiet.

Charlestown, South-Carolina, January 25.

On Wednesday the 4th inst. a party of twenty men, who went from Mr. Calhoun's fort at Long-Canes, were fired at by a party of Indians from the house of one Cloud, one man received a bullet in his hat, and another was shot in the shoulder, on which the party retreated, their guns being wet with snow and sleet.

On thursday last Capt. Lazarus Brown's company of militia, consisting of about 44 men, marched from Fort Moore for Long Canes; and we hear severrl other companies are marching for the relief of the distressed inhabitants on the frontiers.

The Indians who murdered the settlers at Long Canes, are now undeniably known to be Creeks, and it likewise appears that they are not of the Mortar's gang, so that the number of our enemies among them is greater than was imagined.

By letters from the frontiers we learn, that the Irish settlers who came over last year are in great distress; the people round them have left their settlements, but they cannot do the same, because they have neither horses nor waggons to remove their children and provisions, and have neither fire-arms nor ammunition to defend themselves; they have applied to Mr. Mayson at Ninety-six, beseeching him to fetch them away.

Extract of a letter from an honest man, an old settler, and a man of considerable property in the township of Orangeburgh, to his friend in Charlestown.

Long Cane Fort, 27th Jan. 1764.

----"This is to acquaint you of the situation of the people in this part of the country:---they are all in forts with their women and children, and by what I can learn from them, if they do not receive some relief from the publick, the greatest part of them will march off to the northward.---My company of militia think it very hard to leave their women and children behind, and march up to this place 114 miles from their habitations without pay, or other aid or assistance from the publick."

BOSTON, February 2.

Cambridge College, January 25.

Last night Harvard College suffered the most ruinous loss it ever met with since its foundation. In the middle of a very tempestuous night, a severe cold storm of snow, attended with high wind, we were awaked by the alarm of fire. Harvard-hall, the only one of our antient buildings which still remained, and the repository of our most valuable treasures, the publick Library and Philosophical Apparatus, was in flames. As it was a time of vacation, in which the students were all dispersed, not a single person was left in any of the Colleges, except two or three in that part of Massachusetts most distant from Harvard, where the fire could not be perceived till the whole surrounding air began to be illuminated by it: When it was discovered from the town, it had risen to a degree of violence that had defied all opposition. It is conjectured to have begun in a beam under the hearth in the library, where a fire had been kept for the use of the General Court, now residing and sitting here, by reason of the Small-Pox at Boston; from thence it burst out into the Library. The books easily submitted to the fury of the flame, which, with a rapid and irresistible progress made its way into the Apparatus Chamber, and spreading thro' the whole building, in a very short time left nothing but the bare walls. The other Colleges, Stoughton-Hall and Massachusetts-Hall, were in the utmost hazard of sharing the same fate.

The wind driving the flaming cinders directly upon the roofs, they blazed out several times in different places; nor could they have been saved by all the help the town could afford, had it not been for the assistance of the Gentlemen of the General Court, among whom his Excellency the Governor was very active; who, notwithstanding the extreme rigour of the season, exerted themselves in supplying the two engines with water, which they were obliged to fetch at last from a distance, two of the college pumps being then rendered useless. Even the new and beautiful Hollis-Hall, though it was on the windward side, hardly escaped. It stood so near to Harvard, that the flames actually seized it, and without immediate help, must have carried it. But by the blessing of God, and the vigorous efforts of the assistants, the ruin was confined to Harvard-Hall; and there, besides the destruction of the private property of those who had chambers in it, the public loss is very great; perhaps irreparable. The library and the aparatus, which for many years have been growing, and were now judged to be the best furnished in America, are annihilated.

CAMBRIDGE, Jan. 26, 1764. As the General Assembly have this Day chearfully and unanimously voted to rebuild Harvard-Hall, it encourages us to hope, that the library and apparatus will also be repaired by the private munificence of those who wish well to America, have a regard for New-England, and know the importance of literature to the Church and State.

Feb. 13. Wednesday last the Reverend Mr. GEORGE WHITEFIELD preached his Farewel-Sermon, in the Rev. Mr. Byles's Meeting-House, at New-London, and we hear was soon to set out for this Place.
